

Download Hair Transplant Frequently Asked Questions Before Procedure A Must Have

When is the appropriate time to have hair transplantation surgery? Some patients present themselves for surgery with very early hair loss and a significant amount of miniaturization. In a situation such as this, the better solution is to treat the condition with medication and to wait until a transplant is necessary. Show proper evaluation of every case before starting hair transplant is important regarding the allergic status of the medicines being used during the process of hair transplant. If there is some kind of allergy to some antibiotics or any other medication then that history is of utmost importance to us. The Hair Transplant procedure . The patient's scalp is first cleaned and treated with an antibacterial agent prior to the donor scalp being harvested. The donor site is then injected with local anaesthesia to numb the area before the extraction. The procedure of a hair transplant is called Follicular Unit Transplantation (FUT). The frequency of this complication must be low and the hair transplantation clinic must have an ethical policy in dealing with this situation. The incidence of grafts not taking at AEK Hair Clinic are very low and the patients are guaranteed that if this happens, a free touch-up procedure will be offered or even a refund.